SUMMARY

Description

Beautifully refurbished heritage building, situated in a prominent High Street position within the Chesterton conservation area.

The distinctive Grade II listed detached property, which dates from 1789, was formerly 'The Bowling Green' public house – named after the bowling green laid out in the back garden.

It has been sensitively remodelled to provide a characterful, high-spec, fully networked and secure office environment.

With a café next door, and easy access to the city centre, riverside, and green spaces, this is a place where talent can thrive.
